

The Byzantine Family and Household

Dumbarton Oaks Symposium,
May 5–7, 1989

Program

The Formation of Family Links, I

Chair: John Barker, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Angeliki Laiou, Harvard University
Matrimonial and Family Strategies

Judith Herrin, Oxford, England
Divorce

Eugene A. Hammel, University of California, Berkeley
The Effects of Demographic Conditions on the Structure of Household and Kinship Networks in the Balkans

Gennadij Litavrin, Academy of Sciences, Moscow
Quelques observations sur la démographie paysanne d'après le Praktikon de Patmos de 1073

The Formation of Family Links, II

Chair: Alexander Kazhdan, Dumbarton Oaks

John Meyendorff, St. Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary and Fordham University
The Christian Marriage: Liturgical and Canonical Tradition

Ruth Macrides, University of St. Andrews
Artificial and Illegitimate Ties of Kinship

Elizabeth Jeffries, University of Sydney
The Fictional Family in Late Byzantium

Art and the Family

Chair: James Russell, University of British Columbia

Robert Nelson, University of Chicago
Art and the Byzantine Family

Ioli Kalavrezou, University of California, Los Angeles, and Dumbarton Oaks
Image of the Mother—The Theotokos in Byzantine Art

Gary Vikan, Walters Art Gallery
The Art of Marriage

The House

Chair: Glen Bowersock, Institute for Advanced Study

James Russell, University of British Columbia

Diversa diversos juvant: Family and House in Early Byzantium—The Physical Evidence

Klaus Rheidt, University of Karlsruhe

Byzantine Houses of Pergamum, 11th–14th Centuries

Nicolas Oikonomides, University of Athens

The Contents of the House

Henry Maguire, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Garments Pleasing to God: The Significance of Domestic Textile Design

Family, Sexuality, and the Religious

Chair: Robert Thomson, Harvard University and Dumbarton Oaks

Alexander Kazhdan, Dumbarton Oaks

Sexuality in Byzantine Hagiography

Susan Harvey, Brown University

Mothers and Daughters in Early Syriac Hagiography

Alice-Mary Talbot, Oxford Dictionary of Byzantium

The Monastery and the Family

Giles Constable, Institute for Advanced Study

Comments